Neeladri Road leading to Thogur Cross is in Disarray Condition

As a result of civic improvements and an excessive amount of rain, the road connecting Hosur Road via Basapura to Neeladri and Thogur Cross has suffered severe damage, this via seeing a good population movement in recent years and is now difficult for drivers, school buses, and other commuters to pass through. The section of the road closest to Dod-dathoguru Lake has been particularly badly affected. We require civic authorities' attention in order to ensure the required arrangements for the public flow smoothly by relaying the road with proper other amenities.

Triglycerides

Myth
Fats
High fat diets alone are responsible for high triglyceride levels

Truth
Simple Sugars
Excess sugar converts first to fatty acids and then to triglycerides

Know Health Factors

If you didn't hear about triglycerides from your doctor, then you may have first heard about it from a TV ad extolling the virtues of a "trans fat-free" cooking oil, and the actor was probably stressing over his high triglyceride levels! Many would immediately consider reducing the oil and ghee in their diet. Unfortunately, this is only part of the story. What remains unsaid is that the main cause of high triglyceride levels is the consumption of simple carbs.

Our diets today are predominantly high in carbohydrates and simple sugars. This is because both are easily available. They are also versatile in that they form the base ingredient in a variety of foods.

It's a common belief that a high fat diet is solely responsible for high triglyceride levels. But the hard truth is that an over consumption of sugar and simple carbohydrates is the primary culprit. High triglyceride levels are not only the primary reason for increasing your risk of heart disease, but it also leads to insulin resistance, a scenario in which the cells that normally respond to insulin become resistant to it, resulting in higher than normal blood sugar levels.

Chandapura Lake development

Mapping of Chandapura lake catchment is being done : Karnataka Govt.

Karnataka Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma has informed NGT that steps are being taken to carry out mapping of Chandapura lake catchment area to identify all drains carrying mixed effluents and entering the lake.

The total station survey of the catchment area is under process by the Deputy Director of Land Records. The mapping as per the directions by the NGT will be completed by the end of this month, the Chief Secretary said.

Direction has been given to the Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board to divert nala/stop the entry of sewage to the lake and sought a detailed report from the IISc scientist on the use of cost effective methods to reduce pollution in the lake.

"Karnataka State Public Control Board (KSPCB) has been told to conduct an environmental audit of the industries situated in the catchment of the lake and the task assigned to RV College of Engineering College, Bengaluru," Sharma said.

Orders have been issued from the Minor Irrigation Department to take up the work on Design-Build-Operate-Transfer (DBOT) method, for "providing natural treatment arrangements for untreated water of Chandapura tank."

Project Day At BVM School

Project Day is an annual event where a different topic is picked each year and researched by all the students in the school. This year's topic was "Nari Shakti – Women Empowerment" where each grade picked up a separate subtopic related to the overall theme and learnt about it in detail. On project day, the students displayed all their learnings in the form of charts, models, interactive quizzes and audio-visual presentations. Project day not only enlightens students about the project theme itself but also teaches them the value of teamwork, delegation, planning, presentation and public speaking. Valuable lessons were also learnt from the guests of the day

- Ms. Vandana Suri, Founder of Taxshe and Mr. Sailesh B.O, Artist from Cholamandal Artists Village – who shared their knowledge and experiences related to the topic with the students. Ms. Vandana Suri, Chief Guest for the day shared, "I was astounded at the children's work. Projects on how women drop out from work, projects on women in psychology, projects on women in different careers. All done by kids at various ages. Wow!" Mr. Shailesh went around the campus observing keenly the charts as well as the activities and openly praised the efforts done by children in collaboration with teachers at every level. This year's topic taught the students about the hardships and the challenges faced by women from the olden times such as the Gupta and the Egyptian periods till the present day. They also learnt about women who defied their times and governed their kingdoms and fought in wars. They learnt how women overcame many of the restrictions and hardships placed on them and are now forging ahead in every field and are contributing to the world's progress and development. It was also very inspiring for the students when they studied the women who fought and campaigned for social reforms so that future generations of women could better life
